

Name: Sylvia Call

Job Title: Early Intervention Service Coordinator

Location: Fayette County

Job Duties: Work with the Early Intervention team to serve the families of Fayette County

Prior to Working at FCBDD: I spent the first ten years of my career teaching high school English. I took a leap of faith and decided to leave Hamlet behind and to journey into the world of early intervention because I've seen first-hand the positive impact that a truly caring team can make in a child's life, and that's where my heart is. (Although, I must admit that I'm still going to continue visiting with all of my very favorite authors as often as possible lest they feel neglected.)

Family: I've been married to Brandon for nearly six years, and the two of us have some pretty cool kiddos. Arthur is four and is one of the most intelligent human beings I've ever met. Josephine is two and is probably going to rule the world by the time she's six. We also have an assortment of cats and one dog who share our house and offer up frequent, furry snuggles.

Hobbies: I love to read, go hunting for trolls in the cemetery with my kids, and visit the Renaissance Festival each fall with my whole family.

What I like most about my job: I knew that I wanted to become a part of the Fayette County Board of DD after my son, Arthur, went through the Early Intervention program. The whole experience was one that I will never forget, and I am delighted to have the opportunity to work with families who are in a similar situation to that of my own family. I'm so elated to be working alongside the same team who helped our family find its footing when Arthur started in Early Intervention.
